Odor Identification Test (OITB)

QxQ

7/27/2023

Introduction

The Odor Identification Test is a task in which a participant is asked to identify smells.

Procedures

The OITB can be administered in either English or Spanish. Responses can be entered directly into CDART or completed on paper and keyed into CDART. When the forms are entered electronically, “Not answered” and similar responses are recorded by leaving the response field missing and selecting an appropriate field status in CDART.

The participant is given a series of scratch-and-sniff cards. For each card, they are asked to identify the smell from four possible images.

Recording Responses

Q0a. Enter the date the form was completed.

Q0b. Enter the Staff ID of the person who completed the form.

Q1d-Q9d. For each question, Indicate whether or not the participant correctly identified the odor. If the participant answered, “I don’t know,” select 0= “No”. If the participant gives no answer after several seconds, set field status to “Refused.”

Q10-11 These questions have been removed.

Q13. Once the participant completes the Odor Identification Test and data are entered in CDART for Q1d-Q9d, click the refresh wheel to display the sum of odors that were identified correctly. If any odor identification question was refused or skipped, the field will display a prorated score out of a total of 9.
